Mayor's Arts & Humanities Award Presented

Jeri Mow, a long time pianist, accompanist and music lover was presented with the 2013 Mayor's Arts & Humanities Award. Funding for this award is provided through the Humanities Fund at the Steuben County Community Foundation.

For over 25 years, Jeri has been playing for numerous local churches, Steuben County Theatre, accompanied Angola High School students during competition, played for both the Trine Choir and individual students, and accompanys many area singers.

In addition to her expertise in piano and organ, Jeri is a sight reader of music, which is a very difficult thing to do. Another very challenging musical skill Jeri has, is her ability to condense orchestral pieces arranged for multiple instruments, to be playable on just a piano. She recently accomplished this for the Messiah performance held last December.

Jeri has been and will continue to be a very respected and accomplished musician in Steuben County. Congratulations Jeri!
